AIOps London Conference

Agenda Highlights

The conference features innovation spotlights, live technology comparisons, and high-level executive networking, concluding with excellence awards and a private VIP networking reception.

An exclusive executive forum addressing the AI and DevOps priorities defining 2026. The agenda centres on AI-driven automation and autonomous DevOps, AIOps and intelligent incident management, platform engineering and developer experience, and the rise of AI-powered CI/CD and software delivery.

Through visionary keynotes, expert panels, and closed-door roundtables, leaders will explore predictive analytics and observability, MLOps and LLMOps operationalisation, platform-as-a-product practices, and the governance and risk challenges of AI in enterprise environments. Critical focus areas also include scaling DevOps with generative AI, reducing operational burnout through intelligent automation, and driving measurable ROI with AIOps.
